BLACK VENUS' LAKESIDE STAKES.

For the third day of the Washington Park meeting the crowd numbered possibly 3,000. The weather was perfection; the sky clear, the breezes delightful.

Many of the smart people, noticeably Chris Smith, thought well of Al Fresco, but the Schorr horse was galloping at the finish, while Licalzi's 3-year-old was beaten for the place by "War Jig" Murphy's Teutonna, who had run from "eend to eend."

Formero, W. B. Sink, Jr.'s supposedly great two-year-old colt was held a prime favorite, Riley Grannan being the first to venture the 4 to 5 obtaining at the post.

Although the start was a most excellent one, Formero, off fifth, never showed better than fourth, and at the bleaching braids was hopelessly beaten, "Skeets" Martin punishing him severely. W. Overton had taken the track at the first furlong and was not caught until close in when he was passed by Santello, who finished strongly. Hardy Pardee, second up the back stretch, was dropped back on upper turn by Thorpe, who thus gained the rail in the straight. The last eighth produced a splendid contest, the placed horses running abreast, all driving the intermediate sixteenth.

Toluca, for the Lakeside Stakes, went to the post at 6 to 5. Third was the best she could do. The race being always between Black Venus and Souchon, which pair was always first and second in inverse order, Brown Dick's filly threatening at the turn to make a runaway race of it. Even at the last sixteenth it looked as if Black Venus would never reach. Monadour, well backed by the colored contingent, showed third on the turn. Horses not above named never being in the race.

Eugenia Wickes, the favorite in the fourth race, acted badly at the post, but although kicking up, in reality had the better of it standing still while the others broke away. From the inside position she raced away at the start, being at once joined by The Manxman from the outside position and the pair led at the half mile ground, with Boanerges running easily behind them. Fervor fourth, leading the back bunch. Boanerges closed on the far turn, and making his run into the straight, soon had everything beaten. Eugenia Wickes hung on to the betting ring, there stopping to nothing, and in a drive The Manxman got the place from Fervor.

It looked like a case of good luck on the part of McGuigan for Eugenia Wickes and The Manxman to "run their heads off."

Riley Grannan had got down hard on Boanerges, making one bet of $300 to $1,700 with Jim O'Leary and in the next race he placed most of his winnings on Ben Hadad, who opened at 4 and went to the post at 5 to 1, despite his defeat of Traverser on Derby day. Algol's price went up from 9 to 10 to 7 to 5 under the fire on Hurly Burly, which knocked the daughter of Helter Skelter from 8 to 5 down to 13 to 10. Algol ran his race at the post, but when the flag fell still had speed and was restrained in third position by Tommy Burns, Our Gertie being second to Ben Hadad up the back stretch. Algol set sail rounding the turn, but was soon done and Ben Hadad's head was bobbing all the way. Hurly Burly was a bad third.

The phenomenon of a "Dutch book" was presented in the ring concerning the last race, for which Cherry Leaf could be had at 3, Braw Lad at a like figure, Alvarado II. at 3, Haphazard at 6 and Sunburst at 15 to 1. Alvarado II. and Braw Lad raced up the back stretch trying to beat each other for the lead, Clawson, on Cherry Leaf, lying third to the turn, where he came through on the rail and galloped home the easiest of winners from Haphazard, who did not get going the first three furlongs.

The betting was somewhat light, and this accounted for the liberal odds. "Mazy" Blumenthal bet $1,000 on Black Venus, and so got even on the meeting. Leo Mayer "plugged" Eugenia Wickes for $1,000. One of the heaviest of the local bookmakers lost $3,000 on the day, and declared: "No more for me. Tomorrow I will go fishing up in Wisconsin." Marsh Redon laid the highest price against Cherry Leaf.

Tommy Burns was set down for three days by Starter Dwyer, for the breakaways of Algol. Of course Burns will ride out his engagements of today.

The Lakeside Stakes was worth $2,220 to the winner. For this race Ed Corrigan started Chimura, a name not listed on the card. William McGuigan, in reference to Ben Hadad, said: "He is a very fast horse. The track has dried out nicely and will soon be up to breaking records."

C. E. Brossman, trainer of Imp, arrived from the east yesterday. He says that his mare will be rested up in a few days and will be seen at Washington Park.

Sporting men seen about the track were: James A. Murphy, owner of Star Pointer, the 2:00 pacing horse; C. Dugan, of Memphis, "Mat" Hogan, Curt and "Soph" Gunn, "Wat" Robbins.

Of horsemen there were "Mat" Dunn, Arthur Newsom, Jake Saunders, Bob Holloway, Dave Waldo, "Virginia" Bradley, J. Delong, L. Ezell, Dan Hogan, J. E. Cushing, Fred Foster, Jimmy McCormick, H. Tomlinson, Jim Gray, Will Cherry, W. H. Daniels, and Sam Lazarus.

Murray Keller, of Louisville, John W. Gates, of Chicago, and Gus Straus, of Lexington, were out.

Ed Corrigan will start Sardonic for the Englewood Stakes, to be run Thursday.

Ed Austin was the maker of prices for the betting ring.

JEAN BERAUD AND OTHERS.

In reviewing the eastern racing situation the New York Sun of Monday says:

"Whether Jean Beraud is invincible or not is the burning question of the hour among horsemen. The consistent 2-year-old son of His Highness—Carrie C. has only one defeat on his record up to date, and in that race at Morris Park he only got clear sailing when it was too late for him to make up lost ground. He has almost every stake for his age on the calendar to his credit, and his last win on Saturday looked easier than any of his previous triumphs. Skeptics assert that the class behind him on each occasion has been poor, but the fact remains that he is doing all that is asked of him in as clean-cut fashion as the 2-year-old idols of previous years. That he will ultimately reach his Waterloo is remotely possible, but very improbable. There is hardly a chance that some conservative owner has kept another Tremont, Domino or Hamburg in pickle all this time while Jean Beraud was serenely sweeping the decks. Some of the smartest youngsters seen out since the campaign opened in earnest have yet to meet the French-named conqueror, and there may be one among them capable of taking his measure. The bookmakers are clearly looking forward to such a contingency, as they continue to mark up odds about the colt which represent a gold mine for plungers with unlimited capital and confidence. No matter what the outcome may be it is now conceded that Sydney Paget secured a bargain. He is said to have paid $30,000 to Gideon & Daly for the colt, the first stake won after the deal to serve as an instalment, and half the subsequent winnings to go to the previous owners. Jean Beraud promptly jumped out and won a rich stake at Gravesend, to which he added the Great Trial at Sheephead Bay last Saturday. If he keeps on in this vein his new owner will probably "win him out" before the season closes.

"The 3-year-old problem is more complicated than ever. Hamburg has more than wiped out his defeat in the Belmont Stakes. Plaudit and Mirthful, after being hailed as probable champions, in turn succumbed to Pink Coat. Warrenton's forward running at Chicago makes him a factor to be considered, while Sly Fox, The Huguenot and Previous rank with the best on their good days. The Realization Stakes, to be run at Sheephead Bay on July 4, is expected to furnish some sort of a key to the puzzle. Still all are not eligible to start, and the public will have to wait further for developments. There is every chance, however, that Plaudit The Huguenot, Previous and Hamburg will join issue in the Realization, and that fact alone should serve to make the race memorable."

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

When Plaudit went east reports were current that he was doing none too well, but they were apparently without foundation. In Monday's edition of Morning Telegraph "Kelston" says: "With the going a bit heavy and Sunday being more or less of an off day, there is little of importance to report from training quarters. At Sheephead Bay John E. Madden's Plaudit galloped a mile in 1:49, moving free and seemingly at home in the deep going, so that no matter what the condition of the track may be on Realization Day the son of Himyar and Cinderella will take a lot of beating."

"I looked Plaudit over in his stall yesterday and Albert Simons, who has been handling him in the west, is deserving of credit for the condition in which he has handed him over to Mr. Madden. Although not on the big muscular order, Plaudit is a rare type of a clean cut, beautifully balanced horse, absolutely without lumber. His beautifully placed shoulders and perfect balance is a guarantee that racing up hill, down hill or on the level, will be all the same to this perfect racing machine, and it is to be hoped that the Westchester Association will have on its program this fall a weight for age race at a distance of at least one mile and three quarters, and valuable enough to draw all of the best horses in the country."

Winner—Ch. c, by Sir Dixon—Alpena.

Start good. Won easily. Alpen was best. He has class and is a good looker. Tyr Shena was atrociously handled and came like a flash at the end. He should always be waited with; is very good in the mud. He showed a fine burst of speed. Dr. Fitzsimmons finished stoutly and should improve. Diminutive ran well and showed gameness under poor handling. Pride got away badly and loafed along under weak handling. He is only fair, but can stay. Watch him with a strong jockey and in a long race. Strangest ran green; is a good looker. Clap Trap had plenty of speed and was eased at end. Prince of Wales is a good looker, was eased up, showed speed and was probably short.

Overweights—Dr. Fitzsimmons, 3 pounds.

Time, 25, 50, 1:02 1/2, 1:16, 1:42 3/4.

Winner—Ch. c, by Whistle Jacket—Connemara.

Start good. Won easily. The best colt won. Conserved badly under the whip and requires strong hand riding. He will be better his next out. Clonsilla is very good, too. She appeared to be galloping until the final furlong and ran a fine race. She was none too well ridden. Abingdon was badly placed at the start and was under a big pull in the first half mile. He naturally stopped in the stretch. The race should improve him. Flax Spinner ran a much improved race. Watch him in cheaper company. Traveler had plenty of speed and hung on well at the end. He shows improvement. Octave belongs to a lower class than this.

Scratched—Fleeting Gold, 106.

Overweights—Octave, 3 pounds.

6766 THIRD RACE—6 1-2 Furlongs. $600 added. 3-year-olds and upward. Selling. Main track.

Winner—Ch. m, 6, by Exile—Round Dance.

Start perfect. Won easily. There was a long delay at the post. Irish Reel, Tremargo and Maceo acted badly. Reel is at present in wonderful trim. She is probably best when fresh. Tremargo was just as easily the best of the others and is in fine form. Ben Ronald wants a route but reflects his perfect condition by his showing in a short race like this. Orion got a bad ride. He is a good looker, with fine action and should have been third. Watch him. Estaca closed a big gap at the end. He is good but was badly placed. The others belong in duller company.

Scratched—Damien, 115; Burlesque II, 108; Imperator, 108; Hanlon, 105.

Time, 11 1/2, 23 3/4, 36, 48, 1:01 1/2, 1:07 1/2.

*Added starters. Winner—Br. g, by Uncas—Meadowdale.

Start good. Won easily. Autumn ran smoothly and well in Sloan's hands. The race was very fast. Miller was badly messed about and closed strong at the end. He ran a good honest race. Manuel ran like a good one. It was a fine race, as to both speed and stamina. Watch him. The race should improve the colt greatly. Passaic raced well, but is probably a member of a lower class. Counselor Wernberg is at present of no account. He was driving early to keep up. Dove has a smart private reputation. Watch her in capable hands.

Scratched—Jean Beraud, 130; Ahom, 130; Lady Lindsay, 119.

6768 FIFTH RACE—1 3-16 Miles. $800 added. 3-year-olds and upward. Handicap.

Time, 26, 52, 1:16, 1:57 1/2, 2:03 3/4.

Winner—B. h, 5, by Strathmore—Beatrice.

Start good. Won driving. Damien in good form nowadays. He was well rated and lucky to win. Thomas Cat was easily the best. His jockey all but fell off his back during the last quarter. Mann closed stoutly at the end, but is in nothing like his form of last season. He will probably win soon, though, on a muddy track. X Ray showed a fine burst of speed. He was short, but has been doing very well in his work. Watch him. Skater is in bad condition.

Scratched—Previous, 126; George Keene, 122; Poetess, 112.

THE ELECTRIC BATTERY AGAIN.

A turf scandal of some interest cropped up at Latonia Monday, particulars of which are thus detailed in the Cincinnati Enquirer:

"Jockey Aker has asked to be released from the contract which Arthur Duffy has on his services. Yesterday Aker went before the judges at Latonia and made the request referred to, prefacing it with a serious charge against 'Butch' Diebault, the trainer for Duffy. The boy accused Diebault of having tried on several occasions to get him to use an electric battery on horses ridden by him—not only horses in the Duffy string, but also on outside mounts. He said that when Diebault first made that sort of a proposition to him he refused to do as requested, giving as one reason for his refusal his inability to handle the device. The battery which the trainer wanted him to use was a small affair—a magnet battery—to be carried in the hand. Diebault, he asserted, gave him a small block of wood, of the size of his alleged battery, and requested him to practice with it. Aker produced the block, but the battery itself was not in evidence. He charged that Diebault had given him the battery on two different occasions after he had mounted for a race. The first time was June 14 when he was riding Kittie B. in a six-furlong race won by Purity. He took the device, and as he passed out on the track to go to the starting point he handed it to his brother, who is also his valet. A few days later the apparatus was again given him by Diebault, to be used on Duffy's horse, Teulon. On that occasion, the boy said, he threw the thing over into the infield. After hearing Aker's statement, the judges sent for Diebault. He denied the jockey's charge and then made a counter charge that Charles Showalter, a former valet of the jockey, had told him that Aker had used an electric saddle."

"The boy promptly informed the judges that Showalter is now in the employ of the L. & N. Railroad, and requested that a policeman be sent for him down to Milldale. One of the track detectives was dispatched for Showalter, and he was brought to the track without knowing why he had been summoned. In the presence of Diebault he was asked whether he had ever said that Aker used an electric saddle. He emphatically denied ever having said anything of the kind. He furthermore denied ever having had any conversation with Diebault, and said that he never had any use for him, or words to that effect. This, of course, put Diebault in a bad position. The judges decided to look further into the matter. They will wait until Mr. Duffy can be seen. In the meantime Aker has, pending a further investigation into the matter, been released from his contract. No further entries will be received from the stable until the matter has been settled."

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Winner—Ch. c. 4, by Hayden Edwards—Onvirale.

It was very close for third place between Ray B. and Virgie O. Virgie O. closed strong. Duncan Bell ran his race. Cecil was kicked at the post. Alvin W. was pulled up to a walk the last quarter.

Winner—B. f. by Inspector B.—Sun Maid.
Post 20 minutes. Start fair. Won easily; second the same. The winner far outclassed her field and came home in a canter. Fannie Taylor got the place in a rush at the end. Rockland is a slow beginner, but a strong finisher. Drop Curtain was given a miserable ride. She was used too much in the first part, and messed about in the stretch. With a more competent boy she would have been third. May Be So tired in the stretch. Paca pulled up lame.

Winner—Br. c. 4, by Hindoo—Alga.
Off at first break to a good start. Won well in hand; it was a terrific drive for the place. Macy seems to be on edge at present, and ran one of his good races. He had to, too, in order to win. Teutonna is certainly a good filly. Her race was a cracking good one. Clawson took her back at the turn and came with a rush at the end. The filly was under severe punishment the last quarter and outgamed Al Fresco for the place. The latter is an honest colt. He did all he could, and stood Caywood's drive at the end gamely. He has some class, but not enough to beat Macy's kind. Croesus cut no figure whatever in the race.
Scratched—Boanerges, 122; Yuba Dam, 99.

Winner—Br. c. by St. Andrew—Lorilla.
Post 7 minutes. Start good. Won with something left after a hard early drive. Santello is a good colt. He is consistent too, and seems to improve with racing. W. Overton, considering the weight and the usage he got at the post, ran a cracking good race. He is hard to manage and in each false breakaway ran out about a sixteenth. Monongah was used almost as severely. There were three false breaks. Hardy Pardee was quietly played and performed creditably. He doesn't seem to be game though and stopped badly at the end. Formero's race was not to the mark. He got away well and had a clear path. The colt was coughing though before the race and is not at his best. Mark Mail Bag for cheaper company. He had speed but not class enough. Faradel and Monongah collided at the start.
Scratched—King Barleycorn, 123.

Winner—Blk. f. by Kantaka—Queenie.
Post 4 minutes. Start fair. Won in a long, hard drive of two; third eased at the end; fourth and fifth under keen pressure. Black Venus is a sweet article now. She is as game as a pebble and Turner punished her hard through the stretch. The boy rode a powerful finish. He used his whip to good advantage and never dropped the filly's head. Souchon weakened at the end. She was well ridden and ran a winning race. She was one of "Brown Dick's" good things. Toluca met with some interference in the race. She was bumped and jostled quite a lot on the far turn. It is questionable though whether she could have won with clear sailing. Watch Tulla Fonso. She had speed and hung on gamely through the stretch. Chimura and Josephine B were ridden all over the track. It was a sparkling race.
Scratched—Gay Parisienne, 115; Sevens, 115; Ostra, 110.

Winner—Ch. c. 4, by Spendthrift—Llandrino.
Post 21 minutes. Start good. Won hand ridden; next three driving hard. Thorpe helped to win the race at the post on Boanerges. He kept the colt quiet and used him little or none in the long delay. He also waited patiently the first part of the race and avoided the early pace. The Maxman was undoubtedly the best. He is a nervous colt and was working all the time during the delay. He is a fast breaker and got a running start, but was carried along too fast by Eugenia Wickes. He raced her to pieces and gamely stalled off Boanerges' rush in the stretch. It was only in the last twenty yards that he weakened. Fervor ran a good race. He finished strong. Martin, on Hohenzollern, was kicked at the post. Judge Denny looks good.
Scratched—Macy, 122.
Overweights—Fervor, 24 pounds; Hohenzollern, 2.

Winner—B. c. 3, by Hindoo—Alga.
Post 12 minutes. Start good. Won cleverly; second driving; third cleverly. Ben Hadad was a good horse. He had speed to loan, and when Algol made his move he drew away from him as though he were anchored. Algol was rank and Burns could do nothing with him. The colt acted badly at the post. Down the back stretch it looked as though Algol could gallop to the front on call. When let down, though, he was all out. Throw Hurly Burly's race out. It was not up to her standard. The filly looked good, but seemed short on speed. Young was of little or no help to Our Gertie. Tab this filly. She is good and can win soon.

Winner—Ch. m. 5, by Exile—Forever.
Start good. Won easily. Forget is in her best form, but still has her old habit of swerving at obstacles, which may boat her at any time. Brown Red was advantageously handled and ran well. Trayant, for a green one, ran a remarkable race. Lawrence got an indifferent ride. Watch him. Valorous appears to dislike the turf course. He is likely to do better on a dirt track. Tab him. Captain Peirsa had a good chance when he fell. He lacked speed and will do better. Watch him. Probably best on dirt track.
Overweights—Brown Red, 2 pounds.
